

Corporate partnerships with IIRSM

About IIRSM

The International Institute of Risk & Safety Management (IIRSM) is a UK-based professional membership organisation with a global footprint. We help individuals and organisations around the world to feel safe, supported and empowered to identify and manage risks, protecting their environments and lives.

We aim to drive the holistic evolution of risk management in organisations, educating and protecting their people through our unique communities. We work together – providing training, knowledge sharing and networks – to support the competence of risk and safety professionals.

Our values

Honesty

We build trust through responsible actions and authentic relationships.

Adaptable

We constantly challenge ourselves to respond and adapt quickly.

Collaboration

We work as a community to help each other thrive.

Approachable

We are open, helpful and accessible to all.

Respect

We treat people with care, dignity and professionalism.

Supporting your organisation

With members in more than 90 countries, IIRSM offers a unique community, expertise and knowledge to help your organisation thrive. From managing risks in health and safety and your supply chain to data security and corporate governance, we'll help you ensure your organisation stays on course, whatever challenges are thrown your way.

Why manage risk?

Managing risk effectively is about:

- Investing in your people, progressing projects and improving performance.
- Creating clear communications and setting expectations and goals.
- Empowering your teams, suppliers, stakeholders and peers.
- Taking advantage of opportunities.
- Developing the right behaviours and organisational culture.

We are committed to and passionate about managing the safety and wellbeing of our employees. Partnering with IIRSM, a globally recognised body, is an exciting recent chapter in our 44-year operational history and further underpins our commitment to achieving and maintaining workplace health, safety and wellbeing excellence."

Paul Singh, King and Moffatt Group Health, Safety and Environmental Manager

How IIRSM can help your organisation

It's important that everyone understands the strategic, operational and financial risks your organisation deals with every day. When there's awareness of risk, your entire organisation is better prepared to take advantage of opportunities and minimise the impact of foreseeable and unexpected threats.

IIRSM has been providing essential, authoritative advice to organisations for nearly 50 years. By collaborating with a variety of organisations, we have developed an unparalleled understanding of the challenges and opportunities they face. Joining our community is an investment in the resilience of your organisation and in the future of your people.

We support the management of all types of risk, including:

- health, safety and wellbeing
- the governance of your organisation
- all aspects of sustainability
- your supply chain
- your day-to-day operations
- compliance with regulation
- finance
- cyber security.

Having been a personal member of IIRSM for almost 30 years, I am delighted that my company is partnering with IIRSM to help develop our teams in the risk and safety management field and give us access to professional support, helping to provide health and safety professionals for the future.”

Chris Hext, SPL Powerlines UK Group
Safety & Services Director

A partnership approach

Because no two organisations are the same, we let you choose the type of partnership you're looking for. You will benefit from brand association, networking opportunities and discounts on products and services. You could also sponsor an event or community initiative and contribute content to The Sentinel magazine, which reaches 8,000 members worldwide.

Our internationally recognised designatory letters showcase the level of expertise and competence individuals have. They provide stakeholders with confidence that you and your people are skilled and knowledgeable to industry-leading standards.

Your team will have access to training, mentoring and professional development and networking opportunities with peers around the world.

Our community offers a strong support network to professionals at every stage of their career journey, and to organisations that want to ensure every one of their employees can contribute to effective and sustainable risk management.

A framework for success

Our professional development services are underpinned by our Risk Management and Leadership Competence Framework. Covering technical, business and behavioural competencies, these guidelines can determine where and how we support you. At the same time, it helps to create a risk intelligent culture that positions risk management as an essential skill for everyone, no matter their role or level in the organisation.

“Our business is diverse and therefore risk management is fundamental to driving our successful integrated business model, helping us to make informed decisions and strengthen our planning. IIRSM is always on point with topical discussions and articles that provide us insights to strengthen our decision making. Partnering with IIRSM also aids the professional development of our teams who drive sustainable improvements.”

Jane Taylor, DFS Group HSE Director

Learning never ends. Becoming a partner with IIRSM opens up opportunities for new collaboration, networking, sharing and learning how to manage risk in the workplace more effectively.”

Steff Williams, Sonoco Director of Safety – Europe

In-house training

In a fast-moving, unpredictable world of work, organisations must be ready to handle a whole host of challenges, from health and safety risks, cyber-attacks and supply shortages to security threats and global pandemics.

Our training programmes are designed and delivered by experts. We can deliver dedicated sessions of our existing courses to your teams, or tailor them to meet your requirements. We can also provide industry-recognised approval for your own in-house training courses. Our key training programmes include:

➔ Managing Risk – The Essentials

Risk management should be integrated throughout every organisation, no matter its type and size. Everyone, regardless of role and seniority, needs to be able to manage and take risk. Ultimately, effective decision making, and successful performance is the mark of excellence in risk management.

Learning outcomes

Participants will be able to:

- Use risk management to improve decision making.
- Analyse how the external world and internal organisation drive achievement of objectives and how employees can influence their impact.
- Apply practical tools to assess, manage and communicate risk.
- Understand how a simple risk management framework can make your organisation more resilient and successful.

- Understand the critical importance and role of people and culture.

➔ Managing Health and Safety Risks – The Essentials

The ILO estimates that some 2.3 million people around the world succumb to work-related accidents or diseases every year; this corresponds to more than 6,000 deaths every single day.

This course provides an essential understanding of why employees should and how they can proactively play their role in managing health and safety within their area of work. Real-life case studies highlight the impact of events, along with video, discussion, group and reflective activities to understand how the theory applies to individuals’ own workplace scenarios.

Learning outcomes

Participants will gain:

- An appreciation of why health and safety matters to the organisation, including how it relates to the wider risk management of the organisation, and their role in ensuring good health and safety management.
- An overview of the key principles and processes involved in managing health and safety, that can be applied to any organisation, industry or location.
- The ability to conduct a risk assessment, investigate an incident and set action plans.
- Knowledge of the critical role of culture and people and the key leadership behaviours needed to engage with their teams and those more senior.
- Appreciation of the evolving nature of health and safety risks.
- Understanding of sources of reliable and relevant information, to proactively manage health and safety within an area of responsibility.
